Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurThe Compelling Idea that Disrupts the Ancient Alien Theory and History as We Know It:REMNANTS OF A DISTANT PAST explores the possibility that UFOs are not piloted by aliens, but by humans. There is more evidence to support this theory than there is to support the idea that extraterrestrials pilot such craft. Remnants of a Distant Past explores this possibility and provides information about sightings in the famous Bermuda and Pacific Triangles. It also explores the possibility of active underwater cities, advanced ancient civilizations, and the cyclical nature of time. This book offers a new way to interpret existing evidence: a way that might change forever the common view of UFOs and extraterrestrial visitations.
